To the homeowners' delight, Jillian created an expansive one-metre-high Superwhite Dolomite splashback from Granite Marble Works, to allow the cylindrical Falmecc rangehood to pop against the dramatic veining of the stone used throughout. Sculptures on shelf by Natalie Rosin.

learning curves

Custom-stained American Oak veneer, installed by builder Prekaro Projects, was placed in an artful curve around the island bench to create more space and subtle intrigue in the relatively small space.

vivid dream

Working with a limited footprint, clever cabinetry was a must for Jillian's client. She chose Dulux two-pack polyurethane in Vivid White for the wall of cupboards, which conceals almost all of the kitchen's gadgets.

finishing touches

Smart inclusions such as a stainless-steel back bench provide a low-maintenance solution to messy prep work. The sleek matt-black tapware is from Astra Walker, and the cool colour palette is given a soft touch with Grazia & Co 'Iva' stools upholstered in sheepskin.
